

A mini holyday in Iasi

In the first day of the summer holyday, Lizi and I decided to visit her daughter, Simona, a friend of mine, who lives in Iasi.

I wake up at five o'clock, I got dressed quickly, I took two sandwiches, some juice and I hurried to the bus station with my parents. When I arrived there, Lizi was waiting for me. My parents and I, have stood there for almost fourteen minutes and when my father asked somebody when the bus would arrive, he told him that the bus is stuck on a road with a flat tire. He also told him that the other bus would be arriving in other. Because he had work to do my father had to leave. We stayed fourteen minutes and the bus arrived. I told my mother that I'll be all right I walked into the bus with Lizi and I began the journey to Iasi.

When we arrived there, the weather was perfect it wasn't raining and the sun was shining. We took our luggage out of the bus and we took a taxi to Simona's apartment. Simona should have been expecting us but when we arrived, she wasn't home.

After we waited ten minutes, she had arrived. We asked her where she was and she told us that she has been looking for us. She had also told us that she tried to phone me on the mobile. Then I remembered that I accidentally turned it off. Lizi and Simona went into the kitchen to eat something. I had already eaten in the bus so I wasn't very hungry, I just had some milk and cookies. After that, I went to sleep an hour because I was tired after the journey. After I wake up, I watched TV until ten o'clock.

The next morning Simona had to leave in another country for three weeks and so she left Lizi and me to have breakfast alone. I spent the next few days exploring churches, visiting Moll, and looking for the new volume of Harry Potter, but unfortunately, I heard that it didn't appear in Romania yet. The next day we went to the hospital to see what problem had Lizi to the ear. After the doctor had consulted her, he told that she needs to buy a very expensive prescription for her ear, but she just took some pills and she felt much better.

The next two days we went to a fair, Lizi had bought a box for Simona and her, and I bought a bracelet for me and some surprise gifts for my parents.

The last day I went to pray in my loveliest churches one more time and then I went to the bus. When I arrived in Piatra, I was happy to see my parents, but I was going to miss Iasi.

Therefore, end one of the loveliest trips that I have done this holiday.
